

“ALEC IN WALKERLAND”

Throwing Wisconsin Down the Corporate Rabbit-Hole

ALEC is the acronym for the American Legislative Exchange Council, a nationwide conservative organization whose political influence reaches deep into the Walker Administration. That influence is one of the driving forces behind Wisconsin’s Walker Recall effort.

Founded in 1973 and funded by myriad multinational corporations like Koch Bros. Industries, ALEC’s goal for the past forty years has been to draft “model bills” that conservative legislators can introduce in the 50 states. Its website claims that in each legislative cycle, its members introduce 1000 pieces of legislation based on its work and claims that roughly 18% of these bills are enacted into law. (One of them being Arizona’s controversial anti-immigration law.)

ALEC’S recent membership rosters include: Scott Walker, Jeff and Scott Fitzgerald, Glenn Grothman, Randy Hopper, Michael Huebsch, Dan Kapanke, Mary Lazich, and Robin Vos.

Organizations that fund ALEC include: the previously mentioned Koch Bros. Industries, BP, Chevron, Texaco, AT&T, R.J. Reynolds, the American Nuclear Energy Council, and the American Petroleum Institute.

Certain “ideals” ALEC promotes include:

- Lower corporate tax rates
- Fighting importation of prescription drugs
- A voucher system for Medicare
- Privatizing education
- An America free of labor unions
- Fewer underprivileged and student voters
- Environmental deregulation
- Freedom to carry concealed firearms
- A constitutional amendment to ban homosexual marriage or civil unions.

“This is your last chance. After this, there is no turning back. You take the blue pill — the story ends, you wake up in your bed and believe whatever you want to believe. You take the red pill — you stay in Wonderland and I show you how deep the rabbit-hole goes.”
